

Licensed Portable Radio

These radios work well over a typical coverage area of 400m although many miles may be achieved from one hilltop to another. Suitable for shop watch systems, schools, building sites, leisure complexes or anywhere that requires small scale, on-site coverage.

For Larger Coverage Areas

Radios are capable of covering well beyond a mile when used in a repeater system. A radio repeater is a combination of a radio receiver and a radio transmitter that receives a low-power signal and re-transmits it at a higher power, so that the signal can cover longer distances without degradation.
